THE FOUNDING OF MARIAN HOUSE

In the late 1970s, Sr. Margaret Beatty, a member of the Sisters of Mercy, was serving as chaplain at the Women's Detention Center in Baltimore City. Seeing the many unmet needs of the women being released from the detention center, Sister Margaret and volunteer Jane Harrison, a long-time advocate for the homeless, came together in 1978 and began to seek funding to open a program that would address those needs. Letters to potential funders stated: "In addition to safe housing after their release, these women need job counseling, training and sustained encouragement."

By 1980, Sister Josanna Abromaitis from the School Sisters of Notre Dame had joined the effort, working alongside Sister Margaret and Ms. Harrison "to establish and implement the Marian House residence and program."

In 1982 what is now known as Marian House I opened on this site (a former convent building of St. Bernard's parish) as a co-sponsored ministry of the Sisters of Mercy and the School Sisters of Notre Dame. It has served for more than 30 years as a home for women in need of safe, stable housing and a therapeutic community where they can live, work to accomplish their goals, and transform their lives.

CATHERINE MCAULEY

Catherine McAuley founded the Sisters of Mercy in 1831 in Dublin, Ireland. Having inherited a considerable fortune, she established the first House of Mercy to provide women with shelter, education, and job skills so they could care for themselves and their families.

The Sisters of Mercy are women who commit their lives to serving God's people, especially those who are sick, poor, and uneducated. In the spirit of the Gospel, their mission is to help people to overcome the obstacles that keep them from living full and dignified lives.

MARY THERESA OF JESUS GERHARDINGER

Mary Theresa of Jesus Gerhardinger founded the School Sisters of Notre Dame (SSND) in Germany in 1833. She believed that it was through the education of women that both families and society were revitalized. The SSND mission is to proclaim the good news of Jesus by directing their lives toward unity and they choose to do this through the ministry of education. As educators, they strive to draw forth the full potential of others, especially women, children and those who are materially poor. Challenged by the many divisions and crises in our world today, their mission of education extends beyond the classroom to other urgent needs to which they are called.

DEAR FRIENDS,

It brings us great satisfaction to reflect on the past year's successes at Marian House. Each year we are blessed with the opportunity to share our accomplishments and milestones through our Annual Report.

One of the most rewarding aspects of our leadership role here at Marian House is that we have the opportunity to spread the word about our women's amazing journeys and successes. This past year we were able to share the Marian House story with more members of our community than ever before through our "30 Women, 30 Stories" Project, which you can read more about on pages 4 and 5. This project was accomplished through collaboration among the women who have completed our program (whom we fondly refer to as our "alumnae"), our generous funders, staff members, volunteers, and creative contributors.

As leaders of Marian House, we know how tragic the lives of our women were before they came to us, but we have also seen the women change their lives around completely through their dedicated work in our program. Up until this year, unless you had the pleasure of meeting one of our women, you were only able to hear second hand stories. The "30 Women, 30 Stories" Project, however, has allowed our women to share their stories directly - through their voices. This project was such a unique opportunity for Marian House and we could not have been more pleased with how it has been and continues to be received.

We welcome you to visit us to see how the "30 Women, 30 Stories" Project has changed the halls of Marian House and inspires the women currently in our program. Perhaps one of the ladies you meet during your visit will be a highlighted success story in our next book of inspiring women! As a supporter of Marian House, YOU helped each of our women achieve great things. We hope you are proud of your role in our important work.

From all of us at Marian House, Thank YOU for being a part of our journey this past year. We look forward to many more years and successes together.

With gratitude,

Francis X. Bossle

EDUCATION & ADVOCACY

In 2011 the staff and board of Marian House developed a 10 year strategic vision for the organization. One of our goals was to become a known entity and an expert in moving women and children from homelessness to independence, while increasing our visibility both in and outside the human services community. We are pleased to report that in Fiscal Year 2013 Marian House made great strides towards achieving this goal.

The “30 Women, 30 Stories” Project

In June 2012, Marian House released the book “30 Women, 30 Stories: Journeys of Recovery and Transformation”- the first component of an interactive multimedia project created to engage and educate the community on the issues of addiction, mental illness, homelessness, incarceration and trauma. By the fall of 2012 we had transformed the book into audio stories, an educational DVD featuring interviews of the women and local experts, and a traveling photography exhibit displaying striking photographs of the women highlighted in the book. The project then became the centerpiece of education and advocacy for a series of community dialogues on issues that affect the women’s lives.

Randy Farmer O’Connor, Senior Account Executive for Maryland Public Television, has been serving as a Marian House volunteer for over three years. Randy attended the community dialogues to get a better understanding of the women of Marian House and to educate herself about the organization.

“I left each dialogue knowing the journey of at least one inspiring woman, and learning something new about Marian House that I can now share with others,” she explains. “Marian House seems to be an eternal flame in all of the women that have ever called Marian House home.”

One of the organization's strategies for the “30 Women, 30 Stories” Project was to combine powerful human stories coupled with relevant research and facts on the five key issues. With the plan to reach legislators, our women attended Homeless and Reentry Lobby Day in Annapolis on February 28, 2013. There they hand-delivered the book, the DVD and an invitation to an Annapolis showing of the exhibit to legislators, the Governor and Lt. Governor. On March 20, 2013 the “30 Women, 30 Stories” photography exhibit was displayed in the House of Delegates, followed by a luncheon and a chance for political officials to hear first-hand some of the remarkable journeys of our graduates.

The event not only provided valuable information; it also deeply touched the hearts of all who attended.

We are so grateful to the women who allowed us to share their remarkable stories and all those who contributed to this project, especially project director, Peter Bruun, the Open Society Institute – Baltimore, the TKF Foundation, and the David and Barbara B. Hirschhorn Foundation.

If you missed our FY13 exhibits and/or our community dialogues, there will be more opportunities to experience the project in the coming year. Please visit our website regularly for upcoming events. Copies of “30 Women, 30 Stories: Journeys to Recovery and Transformation” are still available. Please contact advancement@marianhouse.org to order a copy or for more information on the project.

something new about Marian House that I can now share with others.”

Monica Scott

Monica Scott started using drugs when she was 14 and proceeded to use them over the next 24 years. In 1994 she was sentenced to prison and incarcerated over four and a half years. It was during that time she learned about Marian House.

“A lot of the programs around the city basically just treat the disease and not the individual... Services need to give (people) not just treatment but recovery. It's one thing to be in treatment for 28 days, but it's another to be in recovery for a year...Only if you learn good emotional management over time can you survive your emotions and recover consistently,” Monica explains in her “30 Women, 30 Stories” testimony.

Upon completion of the Marian House program, Monica decided to pursue a college education. She has since earned her Associate's and Bachelor's degrees and obtained a certificate in addiction counseling. Today she is an advocate and an Outreach Substance Abuse Referral Counselor at Behavioral Health Systems working towards her master's degree.

CORPORATE & COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS

It is no secret that Marian House has amazing supporters. Each year, in the pages of this annual report, we recognize the amazing financial support we receive from individuals, corporations, foundations, and many others.

These people and groups are an important part of our success, but also behind Marian House is a group of amazing volunteers who assist us in raising those funds and volunteer in other capacities to help us raise our women's self-esteem, confidence, knowledge, spirits and much more!

The gift of time is as valuable as the gift of treasure. Throughout the year Marian House is afforded the opportunity to work with amazing individuals, companies, faith-based organizations, and schools who volunteer their time within the walls of Marian House, as well as in our community advocating for our program. From corporate professionals who perform mock interviews with our women in the Job Readiness Program to a dedicated event committee who coordinates the Marian House Race to Embrace Independence 5K, their contributions to the betterment of Marian House are extraordinary.

At the base of this fantastic network of people are the Marian House Board of Trustees and several year-round committees who volunteer and support the staff and the women we serve in their journeys to independence. Their involvement at Marian House goes beyond meeting attendance. Each of them feels connected to our mission and our women in their own way. Frank Bossle, Marian House Board Chair, has been volunteering his time on the board for over 25 years.

"All you have to do is visit Marian House and you instantly understand why you would want to get involved", he explains. "Once you have been here and heard a woman's story you never forget it and it will motivate you to do the work that is needed. It is truly the best way to get an understanding for the impact and value of the program. I will always be involved in some way."

We thank all of our volunteers who spend countless hours improving the lives of women and their families through their service to Marian House.

to do the work that is needed. I will always be involved in some way."

Dana Angelini

Dana Angelini, Employee Relations Manager for Mercy Health Services, joined the Marian House Board of Directors in November 2013. Mercy Health Services is one of several local employers who participate in the Marian House Job Readiness Program - Mock Interview Day.

"I had the wonderful opportunity to experience Marian House's mission in action, firsthand," she explains. "As I interviewed various women, I heard their articulate professional goals, noble interview skills, and their willingness to give back to a potential employer. More importantly, I heard their stories and their eagerness to grow and succeed personally and professionally. I am proud to be a part of such an incredible organization that prepares women to be great employees."

Marian House welcomes the opportunity to partner with more local employers. Please contact our Employment Coordinator, Lara McNeil, for more information at 410-467-4121 or lmcneil@marianhouse.org.

I am inspired by the determination of the ladies at Marian House. They have overcome such obstacles and are taking positive steps to move their lives in a forward direction. It is a privilege to be a part of this process by participating in the mock interviews.

The residents/ applicants were dressed professionally, were very friendly, and greeted everyone politely. There was enthusiasm and energy around the program and the mock interview day. The residents were well prepared and did a nice job during the interview process. They were open to suggestions and feedback and handled themselves as professionals. I enjoyed meeting everyone and would consider the women for positions for which they meet the qualifications.

MISSION

The mission of Marian House is to be a holistic, healing community for women and their children who are in need of housing and support services. We provide a safe, sober and loving environment that challenges women to respect and love themselves, confront emotional and socio-economic issues, and transition to stable and independent lives.

VISION

Marian House strives to transform our society by unlocking the potential found within the women we serve.

VALUES

Marian House values the innate dignity of each human being. Within a culture of respect and understanding of the human condition, the values of patience, trust, honesty, and integrity direct all our interactions and endeavors.

WHAT WE DO

Marian House is a transitional and permanent housing and support services program for homeless women and their children located in the Better Waverly neighborhood of Baltimore City.

Marian House I, phase one, is the transitional housing and intensive rehabilitation phase which provides comfortable, structured community living at our headquarters on Gorsuch Avenue. Central to this first phase of Marian House are the support services we provide, including meals and personal supplies, rehabilitation counseling, life skills training, job readiness, pre-GED education, referrals for medical care, and a savings program to prepare women for independent living. On average, a woman spends nine months to one year at Marian House I. She is then given the opportunity to move into a more independent living environment in the second phase of our program, Marian House II.

In Marian House II, women continue to live in community settings with other women striving to achieve similar goals for independent, healthy living. The housing in Marian House II consists of a group living facility adjacent to Blessed Sacrament Parish in the Pen Lucy neighborhood and row homes near our Better Waverly headquarters. In this phase of the program women continue to receive support services such as counseling, case management, education services, and employment assistance as they carry on working towards their rehabilitation goals in this more independent living environment.

When a woman is ready for independent housing, she may choose to remain with Marian House and move into the final phase of our program, Marian House III, for permanent housing. Here, women continue to receive case management and access to support services. Marian House III also provides rental assistance through Marian House's government grant funding which ensures that rent payments are affordable for our women. In late FY2012, Marian House began providing permanent housing to qualified homeless women with children who did not progress through the first two phases of our program. This expansion in the number of women and children that we serve in permanent housing continued in 2013 and has been made possible by new government grant funding.

OUR MISSION: The mission of Marian House is to be a holistic, healing community for women and their
